HEART HILL VINEYARD

Heart Hill Vineyard is located 12 miles from the Pacific Ocean in the Willow Creek District of Paso Robles. The vineyard is directly east of the Templeton Gap, a notch in the Santa Lucia Mountain range which funnels cold ocean wind into Paso Robles, resulting in warm days and cool nights during the growing season. Heart Hill is defined by steep hillsides of both calcareous and silicious shale soils.

JESPERSEN RANCH

Jespersen Ranch is located 4 miles from the Pacific Ocean in the northwest corner of the Edna Valley. Located on the coastal side of the Santa Lucia Mountain range, foggy mornings and windy afternoons throughout the summer result in cool temperatures and a long growing season. The soil at Jespersen is a combination of clay-loam topsoil and well-drained sandstone subsoil.
